 - o Before clicking any links hover over them with your cursor to verify a trusted address.

- Other comments about ransomware included
 - o Infected computers will affect other computers and networks to which they are attached
 - o Drive-by hacks may ask you to upgrade your software (i.e. "Upgrade your Adobe Viewer NOW") and provide a link
- Other comments and discussion included
 - o If you suspect you are attacked do not be afraid to report it.
 - o Your agency may report attacks to the MJOC or the MCAC in the state who will assist you and your IT folks to find resources to resolve it.
 - o The FBI also has several cyber resources and will assist in the investigation.
 - o John Donohue stated that MIEMSS and the State require regular education for all employees on cybersecurity.
 - o MIEMSS IT launches Internal mock cyberattacks to asses employee compliance which does a great job to emphasize cyber security with employees.

NEXTGEN 911- Jack Markey

Mr Markey reported

- The plan to hire a contractor to assess the needs and capabilities for NEXTGEN 911 was approved by the Numbers Board
- There is a bill in the legislature that will affect 911 centers – Senate Bill 466. MACO is in support of this bill with some amendments but they expect it to go to a conference committee to resolve issues. It will do several things
 - o It extends the provisions of Carl Henn’ s Law to dispatchers and presumes that a heart disease is an occupational hazard due the stress experienced by dispatchers
 - o Establishes a 911 council for PSAP Directors
 - o Allows 911 fees collected to be used for operational expenses as well as capital expenses
 - o Changes the 911 fee assessment to “per-line” versus “per number”
 - o Requires PDOT 01 1/100 calls not be blocked
 - o Requires a Certificate of Good Standing for all 911 Centers both primary and secondary
- The responses and proposals for the RFP in the NCR for Core Services associated with NextGen 911 are currently under review.
- With the change in the Federal Administration, a change in the FCC director is expected. This may affect current rules and regulations fro the federal level.

He thanked the Committee for their support and encouraged to group to keep up the good work.

With no further business to conduct, Mr Markey thanked the entire group for everything that they do throughout the year.
